World Café – How does it work?

The world café method is very simple 😊

- People sit very comfortable at several discussion tables (6-8 people) per table and discuss together one topic.
- At each table, there is one table host who welcomes the participants and remains the whole duration of the world café at the table.
- All participants (except the table hosts) change the table every time the timekeeper gives a signal and join thus a new discussion on a new topic.
- At the end, a summary of all discussions is given to the participants by the table hosts.

Today's topics

- Room 1:
 - What are the roles of public administrations (PAs) and investors concerning the location of E-CS?
 - What is the role of PAs concerning the policy framework related to E-CS?
 - E-CS are built by both – private companies and PAs. Is there coordination necessary between the activities of PAs and private companies?
- Room 2:
 - Which elements are necessary for interoperability?
 - What should be the main elements of an integrated, supra-regional mapping tool?
 - How shall E-CS be combined with other offers? Do you have any suggestions for synergies?

Thank you!
